Bufs Split With Arizona, 20-20

West Texas State stamped itself as a definite contender for the Border Conference championship this year by making a surprisingly good grade on its first big test of the season Saturday.

A three-touchdown underdog, West Texas played University of Arizona to a 20-20 standstill before a packed house of 21,500 in Tucson.

It was the Bufs' first conference test of the year but they remain in good shape since Texas Western and Texas Tech, two other conference powers, battled to a 27-27 deadlock at El Paso the same night.

Coach Frank Kimbrough's lads will play their second league contest Saturday night when they visit New Mexico A & M at Las Cruces. The Herd will be favored to notch its fourth victory against a team that has gone winless in four starts to date.

The Aggies, comprised mainly of freshmen and junior college transfers, have bowed to New Mexico, 14-7; Highlands, 19-12; Hardin-Simmons, 39-0, and Howard Payne, 34-12.

New Mexico A & M hasn't won a game since 1953 when the Aggies downed West Texas, 19-13, at Las Cruces. It was Homecoming in 1953 and the upcoming game Saturday will be reunion day for the 1955 term.

West Texas thoroughly outplayed Arizona last week and deserved a better fate than a tie. The Bufs had one touchdown called back because of an offside penalty and beat the Wildcats in every statistical department. They led in first downs, 19-16; yards rushing, 340-243; and penetrations, 7-4.

West Texas drew first blood in the second quarter. Charles Sanders, Buff right halfback, intercepted Skip Corley's pass and ran it back to the Wildcat 45.

Bubba Hillman went over right tackle for 25 and Archie Souter took it 13 more to the Arizona seven. Joe Walden went over tackle again for 4 and after two running plays by Hillman and Sanders gained nothing. Walden surged over on fourth down. Souter's kick was wide.

Arizona took the kickoff and drove 85 yards for the tying touchdown with 2:30 left in the half. Art Luppino, the Cats' ace tailback who is leading the nation in ground-gaining, went the last four yards for the score. He kicked the extra point to make it 7-6.

West Texas drove to the Arizona 15 before time ran out in the first half.

Arizona ripped back to score in the first three minutes of the third period. A 53-yard march was capped by Luppino's four-yard sprint around left end. The 170-pound junior whiz missed the extra point and it was 13-6, Arizona.

West Texas tied it up again with 3:19 remaining in the third quarter. Thanks to a 43-yard sprint by Ron Mills, which took it to the Arizona 3, the Bufs were back in the game. Mark Clapp carried it the last yard for the touchdown. Jack York passed to end Ken Ballard for the extra point.

The Buffalo rejoicing was short-lived though. After the kickoff, Luppino broke through the middle of the line on the first scrimmage play and rambled 59 yards for the Arizona's third and last score. Luppino's place-kick made it 20-13.

The Bufs were not behind for long, however. Clapp, on a brilliant run, took the ensuing kickoff and returned it 56 yards to the Arizona 32. Mills romped for 22 around right end and took it seven more. Walden slashed over left guard for the last three yards and the touchdown. Souter's placement was good.

Six County Boys To Show Steers

Six Randall County 4-H Club youths will show steers in the commercial steer show at the State Fair in Dallas next week.

The boys, Charles Conatser, Jack Metcalf, Jimmy Hales, Jerry Roberts, Jimmy Hales and Donnie Hales, will leave Canyon with their steers Saturday.

The steers will be shown Oct. 20, and will be sold Oct. 21.

The commercial steer program was designed to train boys to use home-grown feeds on good quality steers and to market a steer showing desirable size and finish.

Instead of judging the steers by comparative methods, the officials will judge according to market grades. All animals having the same market grade will receive the same amount of premium money.

The youths will stay in dormitories furnished by the Fair Association while they are in Dallas.

While tending their animals, they will have an opportunity to see the fair.

They will return to Canyon following the sale. County Agent John Brazzil will accompany the group.

Feed Growers Meet Thursday

Randall County growers of grain sorghums will vote Thursday night on the question of making the crop a basic crop subject to price and production controls.

The county Grain Sorghum Producers Association will have a meeting beginning at 8 p. m. in the district courtroom in the courthouse in Canyon.

The question will be discussed before a vote is taken, and the outcome of the balloting will determine the county policy, according to Charles Gerald, president of the association.

Gerald said many important decisions must be made by grain sorghum producers if they are to receive better marketing conditions and if the association is to speak for the industry.

Also on the agenda is a discussion of methods of financing the operation of the association. During the meeting, financing methods will be presented to the group for consideration.

The association is asking that a large segment of the producers of the county will attend the meeting so that a true representation of the feeling of the growers may be obtained.

Artists Selected For Concert Season

Three outstanding artists have been selected for the season program of the Canyon Community Concert Association after a fast, five-day membership drive.

More than 600 memberships were sold, the association said. None but members may attend the concerts.

Selected for the season were Igor Gorin, baritone, Dec. 9; Leonard Pennario, pianist, Jan. 7 or 12; and Camilla Wicks, violinist, March 24.

Gorin has made extensive tours and appearances as soloist with orchestras in every state of the Union, every province of Canada, and in Cuba and Hawaii. He has attained a position of eminence in the fields of concert, television, radio and opera.

Pennario has had 26 guest appearances with the Los Angeles Philharmonic as well as with orchestras all over the United States and Hawaii. On his first European tour he was hailed as "a phenomenon of the piano."

Miss Wicks is regarded by many audiences of the world as one of the finest violinists of today. A veteran of five European tours, she has appeared as soloist with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony under Dr. Bruno Walter, with the Chicago Symphony and at the Hollywood Bowl.

Two teenage youths alleged to have stolen a car in Canyon Thursday night are being returned here from Lovington, NM, for hearings.

The youths, 15 and 16, were identified from smudged fingerprints found in a car stolen from Travis Payne of Happy, who was visiting in Canyon. The auto was recovered Saturday in Hale Center, Sheriff L. S. Johnston said.

The youths, from Oklahoma City, are believed to have stolen 11 cars in the past few days. The sheriff said they are believed to have stolen cars and driven them until they ran out of gas and abandoning them only to steal others.

The program, instituted last year by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety, will be held Dec. 1.

Sheriff Johnston has been appointed director of the program this year in Randall County by Gov. Allan Shivers. S. Ross Carr, vice president for traffic of the Texas Safety Association, is state director.

Record Crowd of Exes Expected for Annual Homecoming Celebration

West Texas State College's largest student body in history is ready to welcome back to the campus an expected record-breaking crowd of ex-students for the annual Homecoming celebration Oct. 22.

Members of the Class of 1930 will be honored during the day.

Program for Homecoming Day and "Western Days" preceding the celebration has been completed, with the traditional parade, barbecue and football game heading the list of attractions. An assembly, held for the first time last year, will again be featured during the morning.

"Western Days," when students and faculty don western clothes on penalty of being thrown into a tank of cold water, opens Oct. 20 and continues until Homecoming Day.

Students get the celebration under way Oct. 19 at the annual Western dance sponsored by Gamma Phi sorority.

On Oct. 20, the traditional Homecoming Assembly is slated, and a bonfire and pep rally is to be held Oct. 21.

Exes will begin registering at 8 a. m. Oct. 22 in the Administration Building, where they will be given barbecue tickets.

A general assembly for students and exes is scheduled at 10:45 a. m., when Luther Roberts, minister of the Gatewood Church of Christ, Borger, will be speaker. Roberts is a member of the Class of 1930.

Climaxing the assembly will be the crowning of WT's Homecoming Queen.

Campus clubs, organizations and groups will entertain their exes from noon until 3:30 p. m. at teas, smokers and get togethers.

An ex-student band, composed of former members of the Buffalo Band, will be organized for the first time at 1 p. m. at the Band House. The group will head the Homecoming parade and take part in half-time activities Saturday night.

The annual parade, featuring several bands, riding clubs and floats from the campus and Canyon, will start at 4 p. m. through downtown Canyon.

The barbecue will follow at 5:30 p. m., and the football game between the Bufs and Hardin-Simmons is at 8 p. m.

Closing the day's events will be a dance at the Student Union Building after the game.

Special recognition will be paid to the Class of 1930, celebrating its silver anniversary.

The group will register at Randall Hall beginning at 8 a. m., where they will visit until the general assembly.

The class, with faculty who were on campus in 1930, will march together into assembly. A buffet luncheon at Randall has been arranged for the class.

Every week seems to be Fire Prevention Week in Canyon, with only one fire loss since Jan. 1—but this week is the official nationwide observance.

The one fire loss of the year was the home of the late Fred Sargee, which burned March 25. There have been 28 fire calls this year, however, 16 of which were outside of Canyon.

The Canyon Volunteer Fire Department, with 27 active firemen, is an up-to-date department with mostly modern equipment.

Added during the past year were two Scott Air Packs for use in smoke-filled rooms. The packs, costing $438, have air tanks good for 20 to 30 minutes. They were purchased with department funds.

The department also has one of the few portable lighting units in the Panhandle. The unit is mounted on a pickup truck which is equipped with two-way radio channeled to the Texas sheriff's network.

With the activity of Canyon residents and the fire department directed toward keeping fires down, the city now has a 15 per cent fire credit for fire insurance.

Figures collected by the National Board of Fire Underwriters show that while fires of all types are levelling off, 1954 was a bad year for farms.

Last year, fire losses on farms amounted to $157 million as compared to $139 in 1953, a 13 per cent increase. Some 3,000 persons died in the farm fires.

All over the nation last year, in cities there were $845,116 fires costing 11,000 lives and $870,984,000 in property damage.

The Canyon fire department urges every citizen to observe Fire Prevention Week by thoroughly checking his home for fire hazards and correcting unsafe conditions.

In observance of the week, the department will give all young school children a ride on a fire truck this afternoon.

Members of the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department are:

Active firemen: Bob Bellah, Billy Black, T. H. Brasher, J. W. Carter, Louie Davis, Hosea Foster, Bob Gough, Arthur C. Haley Jr., Roland Hicks, Truett Hull, Clark Jarnagin, Jack Jennings, Worth Jennings, C. L. Key, Paul Lindsey, Johnny McBroome, J. Alvin McDonald, O. W. Parker, F. A. Pierce, Harold J. Prichard, Alvin Risner, James Risner, W. W. Sternberg, C. E. Thompson, William Gabe Thompson, W. D. Walker and Owen Williams.

Key is fire chief, Haley is president of the department and Jack Jennings is secretary.

Retired firemen: I. Clyde Davis, R. B. Davis, G. A. Farlow, Ray Campbell, K. E. Frieze, P. F. Hicks, J. W. Kleinschmidt, Lee Foster, Claude Moore, A. H. Prichard, J. W. Prichard, C. L. Thompson and A. L. Walsh.

Honorary firemen: Levi Cole and Mark Foster.

Band Contest Slated Oct. 25

A Region XI marching band contest, sponsored by the Texas Interscholastic League, will be held Oct. 25 at West Texas State College.

A total of 28 bands from the Panhandle area will participate.

The contest, usually a part of the spring instrumental music competition, was changed to the fall semester because of an overcrowded schedule.

Bands also concentrate more on marching in the fall during football season, according to M. J. Newman, WT music department head who arranges Interscholastic League musical events for the Panhandle region.

Admission to the competition will be charged to help defray costs of awards. Cost to attend the contest in Buffalo Stadium will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Eagles Meet Dumas Demons There Friday Night

Practicing with a team ridden with bad colds, the Canyon Eagles worked on pass offense this week in preparation for Friday night's conference game with second-ranked Dumas at Dumas.

"We'll have to play our best ball to win this one," Coach Guy Harrison said. "There's no doubt about it. Dumas has a good team."

During the early part of the week, seven Eagle players were out of school with colds, while several others had colds but were still in school. Coach Harrison expected most of them to be back by Friday night, however.

Commenting on last week's 7-7 tie with Perryton, Coach Harrison said, "Our boys were just dead and couldn't move. We couldn't get any line blocking."

The Eagle bus broke down outside of Borger while on the way to Perryton, and the team was delayed almost two hours. They arrived in Perryton about 6 p. m., with little more than an hour to eat a light supper and get suited up for the game after being cramped in a bus all afternoon.

Although the game with Perryton was a coach's nightmare, the fight was a good one from a spectator's standpoint.

Both teams were fairly even-matched, as the score and statistics reflected. The game was one of trinding defense, with both teams turning away more than one scoring threat.

The Eagles gained 15 first downs while Perryton had 14. Canyon was penalized three times for 25 yards and the Rangers lost 45 yards in seven penalties.

Canyon kicked four times for 129 yards and the Rangers kicked two times for 42 yards.

Six passes out of 16 attempts were good for 130 yards for the Eagles. Perryton attempted five, completed none and had two intercepted. Each lost two fumbles.

The Rangers led in net yards gained rushing, with 227 to the Eagles' 145, but the passing yardage more than made up the difference.

The scout report on Dumas says the Demons have "excellent team defense."

The Demons line up on offense is a weak-side T formation, shifting often to single wing formation on the strong side, the report shows.

The Dumas line averages 177 pounds, including All-District End Don Holtzclaw. The backfield averages 152 pounds.

Dumas has a 5-0 record for this season, and is ranked just behind Phillips in District 1-AA. Canyon stands in third place with three wins, a loss to Floydada and the tie with Perryton.

Canyon kicked off to Perryton and the ball went over on downs to the Eagles on the Canyon 25, after the Rangers attempted three running plays and a pass.

The Eagles ran three plays, good for a total of two yards and Neblett kicked to the Perryton 45.

A 15-yard penalty for roughing the kicker gave the Eagles possession of the ball again on the Canyon 30, and the first down of the game.

Britain ran for one yard to the 31, then Neblett connected with Britain on the first pass of the night, and Britain made it to the Canyon 49, for another first down.

Adams made it across the center-stripe to the Perryton 49, then Boydston carried to the 45. Neblett went to the 40 for another first down.

Britain went one yard, then another run took it to the 31. A fumble on the next play killed the touchdown drive, and gave Perryton possession on their own 31.

The Rangers saddled up and bullied their way 60 yards in eight plays—all the way to the Canyon 10—when a fumble killed their touchdown drive.

Adams took the ball for 11 yards to the 21, Britain went to the 26, Boydston to the 29, a penalty put it back on the 23, then Adams made it back to the 29.

Neblett was forced to kick on the fourth down—a 43-yard boot to the Perryton 38.

Perryton moved the ball back to the 46 yardline when the first quarter ended.

After making a first down and then losing 12 yards on two plays, Perryton quick-kicked 28 yards to the Canyon 32.

Britain made four, then four more. Boydston ran for one and Neblett made the first down on the 45.

Adams passed 15 yards to Eugene Boston for another first down on the Perryton 40. A series of eight plays and two first downs took the ball to the Perryton 20, where Neblett began passing.

He attempted one which was incomplete, then tossed one to Britain in the end zone—also incomplete.

Adams carried to the 11, then the ball went over on downs.

The Rangers swooshed around the Eagles in four plays and got the ball back to the 46.

A Ranger pass thrown from the 46 was intercepted by Eugene Boston on the Canyon 39.

Neblett ran to the Perryton 45, making a first down; Adams ran to the 32, making another; Britain ran to the 30, and Neblett began passing again.

He threw an incomplete pass, then connected with Britain for 16 yards to the 14.

The quarterback threw another incomplete pass, handed off to Adams for one yard, then threw two more incomplete passes.

The first half ended after Perryton had one play good to the 19. The score was 0-0, Canyon had 116 yards rushing to Perryton's 103; and 49 yards passing to none for Perryton.

The Rangers kicked off to open the second half, and the Eagles ran the ball back to the 22.

Britain made two yards, Adams four and Britain lost one. Neblett kicked his shortest boot of the night to the 50 yard line.

The Rangers began a series of short running plays that took them through two first downs to the 30, then they kicked to the 18.

Three running plays left the ball on the 23, and Neblett kicked again—the kick that set up the first Eagle touchdown after a Perryton (Cont. on Back Page, Section 1)

There are only 74 more days to Christmas. That's a statement that in itself is not very exciting. In fact, 74 days is considerable time.

But the chamber of commerce has already started thinking of Christmas. More especially, the chamber is thinking of Christmas decorations for the city.

A committee appointed by the chamber has worked out a plan for decorating the business district around the square, along the highway and down Fourth Avenue between the two districts.

The proposed plans call for metal brackets to be put onto streetlamp posts. The brackets are fixed with plastic inserts which contain light bulbs.

The plan will cost money, quite a bit of money. The estimated cost is around $2,400.

The chamber will donate between $300 and $500. The rest will be made up somewhere else, and somewhere else is usually considered to be the businessmen.

The committee figured that the fixtures could be purchased if each merchant will donate a sum equal to 65 cents a front foot for his business property.

The fixtures are of a permanent nature, and should last about 15 years. The city has promised to put them up each year, take them down after the season is over and store them.

It will take about 90 fixtures to decorate every lamp post in the two business districts, the highway and Fourth Avenue.

In the next week or so, the chamber will be approaching each merchant and asking for the donation. If we want Canyon to be decorated in the spirit of the season, this seems to be a good way of getting it done.

Not only did the committee work on decorations for the business district, but it also contacted the college and the school system on decoration ideas.

The college has promised to erect a Christmas scene on the highway west of the student union. The school system has been asked to erect another at the new elementary school, and the city to put one on the square.

In addition, the committee discussed the feasibility of conducting a home-decorating contest with cash prizes for the top four. The prize suggested was $50 for first, $25 for second and $12.50 each for the next two runners up.

That would take some cash from somewhere, the solution to this somewhere was suggested to be the homeowners themselves.

The suggestion was that each entrant put up a $1 entrance fee for the prize.

Actually, the contest wasn't set by the committee. The members only discussed it, and wonder how Canyon homeowners might react.

If you think it's a good idea, you might let the chamber know. Members of the committee are Bob Bellah, Roy N. Byrd Jr., Bill Brundage and Clarence Kincaid. Truett Hull is an ex-officio member.

Most of the weeks set aside for special observance, such as National Lollipop Week, National Drink More Milk Week, Use More Gasoline Week or It Pays to Insure Week, are designed to make money for various groups.

There's one that comes around each year that is designed, however, to save you money.

Fire Prevention Week, sponsored by the National Fire Protection Association and backed by fire insurance companies and fire departments across the nation, is Oct. 9 to 15 this year.

The theme of this year's observance is, "Every fire hurts YOU!"

That theme is just as true as it can be. There's a direct monetary loss to everyone everytime there's a fire in your hometown.

A standard fire insurance rate is set by the state. Every city reports fire losses each year. The state adds up the losses on a yearly basis, and averages them out on a five-year basis.

Each city is then given a credit or debit rating which applies to the rates paid for fire insurance by property owners.

Right now, Canyon is enjoying a 15 per cent credit. So far this year, there has been only one fire loss, and if there are no more the credit for next year should be a little higher. It really takes only one big fire to destroy a credit rate, too.

Some years back, Amarillo had a good credit. Then, Blackburn Brothers store on Polk burned with a tremendous loss. Since then, property owners in Amarillo have been paying an extra premium—the city now has a debit rating.

One big fire in Canyon could cost every property owner quite a bit of money for the next five years.

The best way to keep a good fire insurance rating is to stop fires before they have a chance, in other words, prevent them.

Chimneys and flues should be cleaned and repaired if necessary. Cluttered storage areas invite fires. Clean up attics, cellars and storerooms. Keep boxes and cartons a safe distance from furnaces and heating pipes, and keep good ventilation within storage areas to prevent spontaneous combustion.

Check hoses and flexible pipes leading from gas outlets to stoves and heaters. Make sure there are no gas leaks anywhere in your house.

Replace all worn or loose electrical wiring. Extension cords and multiple sockets should be inspected for possible short circuits. Fuses should not be of higher amperage than the wires can handle.

Store gasoline, kerosene and other inflammable liquids at least 40 feet from buildings.

Screen open fires in fireplaces. Make sure your incinerator is safe and sparks do not blow onto dry grass or buildings.

And, silly though it may seem to be reminded, never smoke in bed.

Fires last year in the United States cost 11,000 lives and destroyed $870,984,000 in property. Statistics of the National Board of Fire Underwriters show an estimated 845-116 fires in communities of 2,500 or over during 1954—an eight per cent decrease from 1953 totals.

Canyon has been luckier. Since Jan. 1, 1955, there have been 12 fire calls in the city with only one loss, the home of the late Fred Sogree during the early morning of March 25. There have been 16 fire calls outside the city, also.

Fire Prevention Week, incidentally, dates back to 1911 when the Fire Marshals' Association of North America, now a section of the National Fire Protection Association, selected Oct. 9, the date of the Great Chicago Fire, as the best time to annually remind the nation of the great need for greater fire safety.

Old Rip, the Eastland horned frog, caused a Dallas judge to be defeated.

The late Maury Hughes, brilliant attorney, once told me the story.

But, first, the background. Perhaps you will recall that, back in 1928, the frog emerged alive after 31 years in the cornerstone of an old courthouse and then was taken to Dallas for a theatrical engagement. But Ed S. Pritchard, who was then county judge of Eastland County, ordered the creature brought back. So Will Wood, who had owned the frog before it was entombed, brought the frog back and then was sued in Dallas for breach of contract.

Some time later, Old Rip set out with the Eastland County delegation for a highway convention in Memphis, Tenn., but when the motorcade stopped in Dallas, the frog was seized on a writ which had been obtained by the plaintiff.

Bond was arranged and the animal continued on the tour, which included a visit with President Calvin Coolidge in the White House.

So much for the background—and now for the chapter contributed by Maury Hughes.

It was some years later and a great crowd was on hand in Dallas for the final political rally before the election next day. A candidate for judge was unable to be present and one of his leaders asked Hughes to speak for him and to "touch up" the other candidate a little.

Hughes was noted for his off-the-cuff ability as a speaker but, when the request that he address the throng was made, it was almost time to do so and he found himself hard put for once. The other candidate had been judge for a considerable time but the only thing in his record that came to Hughes' mind as he was climbing the steps to speak was that it was before the judge that the litigation about Old Rip took place.

So he told the thousands assembled that they could gain some idea of the caliber of the judge from the fact that his most important case had been about a frog and he went into comical detail about the matter. The crowd roared with delight at his clever ridicule.

Next day's voting was close — and the judge was defeated.

The fabulous frog had produced a result which was fantastic.

You can never tell just how far-reaching and unexpected the effects of any occurrence may be.

Pastures Help Cut

Pork Growing Costs

COLLEGE STATION—"Don't overlook pastures in figuring how to cut swine production costs," says E. M. Regenbrecht, extension swine husbandman.

The pasture, he adds, is the best place to keep the bred sows at all times except during bad weather in the farrowing season.

The exercise, sunshine and nutritious pasture will help to farrow a stronger and more vigorous litter. But a clean, dry well-bedded shelter is an essential for the cold weather months, says Regenbrecht.

The sows will need plenty of water and a balanced ration but the pasture will reduce the feed bill. Too, with lowered hog prices, any management practice which will cut costs is an important item.

It is now time, says the specialist, to plant the pasture for fall, winter and spring grazing. Oats, rye, winter wheat or barley are suggested as crops which can be planted in most sections of the state.

Moisture conditions are now favorable and for maximum yields, Regenbrecht suggests that from two to three bushels of seed an acre be planted. The plants should be five to six inches high before being grazed.

The spring litters will be able to graze the small grain pastures before most other pastures are ready. The earlier the sow and litter can be turned on the pasture the better.

A good acre of small grain, fertilizing is recommended before planting and nitrogen applied as a side dressing when needed, should produce sufficient grazing for about six sows and their litters during the spring season.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Even a mildly intelligent canine knows enough not to bite the hand that's feeding him.

But it appears many federal, other government workers are unaware of this fact, because they are now owning and operating discount retail outlets.

This project apparently started in Los Angeles where federal government workers started a business called FEDCO. This venture into socialism now operates 3 C. W. Harder stores covering 160,000 square feet, employs 160, did a $10 million business last fiscal year.

In fact, FEDCO even has its own private brands, selling among other things, its own brand of bourbon known as "Old FedCal."

In addition, Los Angeles city and county, as well as state employees operate an organization called MORE doing about $7 million per year. Similar operations have been opened in Northern California.

Everything from fresh cut flowers to furniture and heavy appliances are sold in these stores, including of course, the government worker's own brand of booze "Old FedCal." To trade in these outlets and get the discounts offered government workers must show cards which indicate they are government workers, just as Russia card carrying communists show their cards to receive special benefits in buying.

© National Federation of Independent Business

Thus, those who are supported in a large part by taxes paid by American retailers and wholesalers operating in the American free economy, are seeking to sabotage the people and system that pays their salaries. At same time, through Washington lobbies, they try to "boot-jack" these same taxpayers for higher wages and benefits.

The time has long since passed when government employment can be considered low paid. In addition to good pay schedules, there are paid vacations, annual sick leaves, other benefits.

It is also interesting to note there are so many federal employees in Southern California it is possible for them to support a private department store chain as well as their own private brand.

This well illustrates sickness that stalks the land.

Wonder over Russian intentions, fuss raised over loyalty oaths, similar matters, pale into insignificance beside this fact.

Government workers have turned their backs on private enterprise to embrace socialism. Today it's a buying commune, tomorrow it may be a social commune, following day a political commune, and following day is anybody's guess.

Russian pattern is followed in other ways, too. In Russia communism was promoted by least productive element, those who made little, if any contribution to the economy.

In U. S. socialism is being promoted by government workers.

Farm Fire Losses High During 1954

COLLEGE STATION—Farm fire losses in the nation were 13 percent higher in 1954 than for the year before and the increase was the greatest for any year since 1948.

Members of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee believe that many things can be done by rural residents to stop this upward trend and at the same time save much of the estimated $157 million of property which went up in smoke last year.

The committee suggests a thorough inspection of all buildings on the farm and the elimination of fire hazards. They point out that one of the major causes of fires in barns and outbuildings is electrical faults.

Studies made in two states showed that a lot of the trouble was in the fuse box—the wrong size fuses were being used. Don't, warns the committee, use any fuse except one with the amperage to go with the size of the wire in the circuit. Don't overload the fuse box.

Check all wiring, they caution, for frayed insulation, loose or sagging wires and fixtures and don't try to make repairs until the electricity has been turned off.

Spontaneous combustion is the number one cause of fires in farm barns. Hay should be well cured before it is stored and the storage area should be well ventilated. Flammable liquids should not be stored closer than 50 feet to buildings and preferably underground. Lightning is responsible for many farm fires. Rods of the right size and material properly installed and maintained can eliminate this fire hazard.

Number one cause of farm home fires, says the committee, is defective or over-heated heating, cooking and other equipment. Other major causes are careless use of gasoline or kerosene; defective or over-heated chimneys and flues; sparks from the chimney and electrical faults.

Find the hazards and remove them and you can keep your farm out of the fire statistics, says the committee.

HEAD IN THE RIGHT PLACE

A red-faced man was struggling to change a tire, while a woman looked on. The kind-hearted motorist drew up behind the stalled car, dismounted, and said, "Pardon me, but can I be of assistance?"

The man laid down his tire tool and taking the new arrival by the arm, he walked him out of the earshot of the woman.

"You certainly can help me, friend," he replied thankfully. "My wife here has a very decided view as to how this job should be done. If you will just talk to her and divert her attention until I get this tire changed, I shall be eternally grateful."

Harry S. Truman, emphasizing that Communist peace overtures should not be taken at face value, called defense cuts "unjustified" and "dangerous."

When something especially nice happens to our friends, how do we greet them? Are we generous with congratulations? Or are we tempted to give them a back-handed compliment?

Recently some people we know sold their old home place and bought a spanking new, modern home. They were a little sad at leaving the house where the children had grown up, a little self-conscious in their new glassed-in splendor. But their reasons for making the change were common-sense ones and they needed cheering up, not a set-back.

One woman called: "Well! You certainly let the neighborhood down! But I guess we'll forgive you!"

A visitor (before they were settled) looked at the beautiful stained-wood paneled walls and suggested: "You COULD bleach this wood and rub paint on it when you tire of it this way. It surely would lighten up the rooms."

After too many years, our own family budget finally allowed doing over the walls and woodwork

Bible Verse to Study

"Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitation; spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes."

1. Who gave the above exhortation?
2. To whom was he speaking?
3. What place did he occupy in the life of Israel?
4. Where may this verse be found?

BIBLE VERSE ANSWERS:

3. Isaiah is loved as one of the leading prophets of Israel.
4. Isaiah 54:2.

of the living room and dining room. Most everyone seemed as happy as we at the results, but a few couldn't resist pricking our pleasure: "And, of course, wall-to-wall carpets will help a lot, too." Or "H-m-m! This certainly is a different color!"

We recall a conversation we once overheard about diet. By strenuous self-control, a woman lost seven pounds. At a party a friend walked up to her and exclaimed: "Haven't you lost some weight? My goodness! I said to myself, 'That CAN'T be Mary!'"

We aren't any more sold on the insincere gusher than the next fellow is. But for our money, the measure of one's kindness is how well he can behave over a friend's good fortune, not just his mistakes.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Farm Program

As most people familiar with farm problems realize, the dilemma presently faced by the farmer is not a new experience.

The tragedy lies in the fact that the basic problem has caused trouble in this country since the 17th century. The great difficulty has always found its source in the fact that the farmer's products have been forced to compete on the world market while the products which he needs to operate his farm were purchased by him from a protected, domestic market.

In other words, he has been placed in a position of having to "sell low and buy high." This is the exact reverse of the age old success theory to "buy low and sell high."

There has always been a great deal of talk about getting this situation straightened out. But, like Mark Twain's remark about the weather, everyone talked about it but no one did anything. That is, until the present farm programs were brought into play during the depression years of the 1930's.

It was through these programs that the income of the American farmer was brought up to where it approached a fair share of the national income.

However, the continual sniping at these programs has finally resulted in a situation where the farmer again finds himself sliding backwards, in so far as his income is concerned.

History has shown us that every time the farm income was allowed to drop and continued on a downward trend, it resulted in an over-all economic depression. The present decline in the present farm income must be stopped.

If we have another depression in this country, it will be a man-made depression, because we have the know-how to avoid it. To allow it to happen would be inexcusable.

To those who continually preach against the farm program, and who seem to get great pleasure out of calling them farm subsidies, let me say this.

The farmers build countries. They do not bankrupt them. Any statement to the effect that the farm programs of this nation are bankrupting the nation, just do not coincide with the facts.

The truth is that the losses in some portions of the farm program, which were being tested on a trial and error method, do not amount to a thimbleful when compared with the vast subsidies that have gone to industry in this country for years before the farmer was thought of, nor to the vast sums of money that have been sent overseas as gifts and grants to many who had sought to destroy our government and our nation.

The advance of civilization has always required changes in laws and in programs under which people have lived. New problems are created by new discoveries and new advances in many fields.

But it must be remembered that none of these problems, especially the farm problems, can be settled by destroying the American farmer, or whatever segment of our population might be affected by a particular problem.

Of course, there are many solutions offered to these problems, and they should all be carefully weighed because some suggestion in each of them might be an essential ingredient in the final successful recipe.

As of Sept. 27, the public debt of this nation was $277,425,541.342 05. I am of the opinion that this debt is too high.

I felt that it was too high when it was approximately 275 billions of dollars.

I have consistently voted against increasing the authorization to go further into debt, because I have felt that there was not enough difference between the national income and the national debt.

Under the free enterprise system of government, there will always be a public debt because we operate on a debtor-creditor relationship in all of our activities and especially in the fields of government operation. And, as long as we have an expanding economy, we can expect a public debt to be related to the national income.

However, I have always felt that the national debt should be far enough below the national income to avoid any chaotic conditions should the national income unexpectedly drop.

It was recently pointed out by one of the high officials of this country that Russia did not have any public debt. One of the metropolitan newspapers immediately replied in an editorial that the reason Russia did not have a debt was because everything in that country was owned by the state.

Should there be a public debt it could be wiped out by an order of the ruling committee.

It also pointed out that this same committee by the same type of order could also confiscate all savings accounts of individuals should any exist. In other words, everyone owes the government and the government owes no one.

As big as our national debt is, I prefer our system.

Grub Control Season Here

COLLEGE STATION—Few common cattle parasites are as costly to livestock producers as the cattle grub.

They take several million dollars annually from livestock income in the form of damaged hides, lowered meat quality and reduced dairy production, says F. M. Fuller, extension entomologist.

The grubs during the fall months appear as lumps under the hide in the backs of dairy and beef animals and are easier to kill at this stage than any other in their life cycle, says Fuller.

Rofenone used as a spray, dip or dust is very effective for controlling the pest. Fuller says that seven and one-half pounds of derris or cube powder containing five percent rotenone to 100 gallons of water makes a good spray solution.

The material should be applied with a power sprayer with 200 pounds pressure.

Fuller says that 10 pound of wettable sulphur should be added to the above solution is a dip is preferred.

As the animals go through the dip, the entomologist says their backs should be scrubbed to assure a thorough penetration of the insecticide and to knock the scabs from the holes made by the grubs. A long-handled brush with relatively stiff bristles is recommended.

A dust can be made from one pound of derris or cube powder containing five percent rotenone and two pounds of a heavy non-alkaline dust such as talc, tripoli earth or pyrophyllite.

Ready prepared dusts should contain at least 1.67 percent rotenone. Fuller says that about three ounces of the dust should be rubbed into the back of each animal treated.

Regardless of whether a dust, dip or spray is used, applications should be made at 30 day intervals as long as grubs continue to appear.

"TWO-FIVE" IS COMING TO CANYON

NATION-WIDE "2-LETTER, 5-NUMERAL"
TELEPHONE NUMBERING SYSTEM
TO BE INTRODUCED NOVEMBER 6

ALL CANYON telephone numbers will have a "new look" when the nation-wide "2-5" telephone numbering system is introduced here on Sunday, November 6.

The new "2-5" numbering plan simply means that all telephone numbers here will include two letters and five numerals.

Nearly all telephone numbers here will have the same five numerals they now have, and will be preceded by the first two letters of the central office name, OLIVE. For example, the telephone number 5-1534 will become OLIVE 5-1534 on November 6, and you'll dial O-L-5-1-5-3-4.

A very few telephone numbers may have to be changed entirely because of technical reasons.

A new edition of the telephone directory — listing all the new "2-5" numbers — will be delivered just before the new numbering plan goes into effect.

The new central office name ...OLIVE...is needed so that telephone numbers here will conform to the standard nationwide numbering plan. Two-letter, five-numeral telephone numbers here will help pave the way for Canyon to join the nationwide long distance dialing network.

Long distance operators handling Canyon calls then will be able to dial direct to 2,500 other cities on the dialing network... without the aid of a distant operator. Most calls handled by this method will go through in one minute, or less.

We are proud to announce the coming addition of Canyon to the nation-wide "2-5" numbering plan, and we are sure you will like the increased speed and efficiency of your long distance telephone service.

Poultry Culling Less Important

COLLEGE STATION—Culling, one of the oldest flock management practices used by poultrymen for maintaining high egg production, is less important today because of changes being made in flock handling methods.

Little culling, except to remove the hopelessly sick or unthrifty birds, should now be needed for the first eight to nine months of production. Ben Wormeli, extension poultry husbandman, says taking a young hen from the flock just because she fails to lay for a few days is a sure way to cut income.

Wormeli adds that this may seem to contradict former recommendations about culling but it doesn't. He says egg producers who are most successful replace the entire laying flock with pullets at the end of each laying year, thereby eliminating the job of trying to select the best hens to carry over for the second year of production.

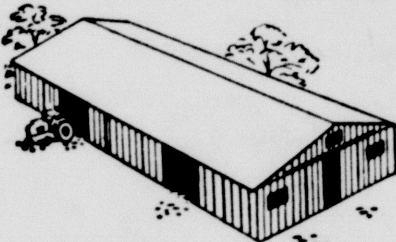

Too, the specialist explains, breeding methods have been intensified to the extent that where top quality chicks have been used the resulting flock will lay at a rate for eight or nine months that makes culling of healthy hens unnecessary.

If a flock of top bred birds is not laying at a high rate, Wormeli says the poultryman had best do some checking on the care and management his hens have been receiving. When corrections are made, the flock should return to a satisfactory rate of lay.

The poultryman has an investment of from $1.75 to $2.25 in a pullet by the time she begins to produce.

This cost, points out Wormeli, must be recovered along with the expense of keeping her in production before any profit can be realized. The replacement flock must be well bred to justify these costs.

culling early in the laying year, she is a sure money loser because she didn't have a chance to pay off the investment.

Studies are now indicating, says the specialist, that a hen may take as long as two weeks pause and lay a profitable number of eggs before the end of the laying year. If she had been culled early, this couldn't happen.

On the other hand, Wormeli says if the hen goes out of production near the end of the laying year, she should be culled because there isn't worthwhile number of eggs.

These studies point up the need for poultrymen to be very careful about buying only chicks for the laying flock which have the very best breeding in them, says Wormeli.

Too, he says, research findings are showing there is a correlation between death losses in chicks and mortality in the flocks produced from the chicks.

Know the records not only from the standpoint of eggs produced but also the weight of eggs and the mortality record of the flocks from which replacement chicks are purchased, advises Wormeli. Buy the ones which are bred to lay.

School Extra Milk Program Expanded

COLLEGE STATION—Expansion of the special School Milk program is in prospect for this school year, reports Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz.

The Special School Milk program was authorized by Congress to increase consumption of milk by children in nonprofit schools of high school grade and under. It was first operated during the 1954-55 school year.

The program was administered nationally by the department's Agricultural Marketing Services, and within the states by the state educational agencies.

Texas reported 1,329 schools with 305,328 pupils participating in the program last year. During the period there was an increase of 18,235,000 half pints of milk consumed by Texas school children. Federal expenditures for the program in Texas amounted to $718,000.

On June 16, the Department of Agriculture announced modification of the program to permit more schools to participate.

bonthead play.

The ball flew through the air and landed just past the 50 yard line. It rolled to a stop on the 43. Perryton's Dan Pearson watched the ball stop, reached down and touched it with his finger, and stood up again.

As he stood up, several Eagles began a flying scramble to recover and gained possession on the Perryton 43.

A clipping penalty on the first play put the ball on the Canyon 31. In the play, Neblett was attempting a pass and was chased some 35 yards behind the line of scrimmage. He made it back to the 44 before being downed.

Starting from their own 31, the Eagles recouped with Britain making four yards, then Neblett passing to Britain for 35 yards back to the Perryton 30.

Britain ran for three, Boydston for one, then Neblett connected with Britain again.

The Neblett-Britain pass was good for 26 yards and the touchdown. Neblett's extra point was good.

The Eagles led 7-0 with 1:38 left in the third quarter.

The quarter ran out while Perryton was in possession of the ball on the Canyon 35, driving for a score.

The Rangers kept the ball, taking it down to the 29 before losing on downs.

Four short Eagle plays ended with a kick by Neblett to the 50 yard line.

The Rangers began their drive from there and made a touchdown. Pearson made five, Jimmy Todd seven, then two, then 22.

Pearson made seven, then two then three.

Todd took the ball over from the 2 for the score, but the play was called back by an offside penalty.

Todd ran the same play and made the goal line again, to make the score 7-6. Todd ran the same play for the third time in succession and made the extra point, tying the score with 3:47 left to play in the game.

The Eagles took the kickoff on the Canyon 30 and started what looked like another touchdown drive. They worked the ball to the Perryton 39 before losing on downs.

The Rangers tried the same stunt, taking over on their own 39 and driving all the way to the Canyon 33.

On the last play of the game, a pass by Todd was intercepted by Canyon, but the gun sounded as the play was in progress.

Adams was again the leading ground gainer for Canyon, making 66 yards in 14 carries. He also threw one pass for 15 yards.

Britain was second with 33 yards in 13 plays.

Neblett made 23 yards in five ground plays and threw five complete passes for 115 yards. The junior quarterback attempted 15 passes.

Boydston carried six times for 16 yards and Roland O'Donald once for 5.

Mrs. H. J. Greenfield and son left Monday for Ft. Sill, Okla., to join her husband who is in the service there and who is also attending school there.

Evelyn Irlbeck-Henry Leven Marry In Double Ring Ceremony Recently

St. Mary's Church at Umbarger was the scene for the double-ring ceremony Oct. 5 in which Evelyn Janet Irlbeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Irlbeck of Umbarger, became the bride of Henry Leven, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Leven of St. Francis. Rev. Andrew Marthaler officiated at the Nuptial High Mass. Kenneth Artho and Larry Wieck were acolytes. Arrangements of white gladioli decorated the high altar and the side altars were decorated with seasonal flowers. During Mass the couple knelt on a white velvet pre-dieux. White satin streamers marked the family pews. Mary Janssen, organist, played "Ave Maria" during the offertory, and St. Mary's Senior Choir sang during the Mass. Matron-of-honor was Mrs. Max

Koch. Bridesmaids were Irene and Lorraine Leven, sisters of the bridegroom, and Elsie Buecker.

They wore identical floor-length gowns of azure blue net over taffeta with matching lace jackets. Blue half-hats of net over taffeta were shirred and sprinkled with stardust and accented by seed pearls. Bouquets of pink carnations on small blue pillows were carried by the attendants.

As best man was Floyd Leven and groomsmen were Gilbert Irlbeck and Tony Irlbeck. Ushers were Floyd Detten and Vincent Friemel.

Escorted to the altar on the arm of her brother-in-law, Max Koch, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. The molded bodice of lace came to a point at the waistline and was fastened with tiny satin covered buttons down the back. Iridescent sequins accented the high rounded neckline. Her long tapered sleeves of lace came to a point over the wrists and the skirt of tulle was designed with a peplum effect of lace.

A two tiered veil of silk illusion fell from a scalloped crown of pearls and silver beads. The bride carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations surrounded by stephanotis and tied with streamers in loveknots over a linen outwork handkerchief which was a gift of her uncle, Henry Skypala. The traditional something old and new was carried out.

After Mass, the bride consecrated herself to the Virgin Mary.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Irlbeck wore a navy crepe dress with lace and rhinestone trim and black and white accessories. Her attire was complemented with a white carnation corsage.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Leven, wore a grey flocked rayon dress with white collar and cuffs and black accessories. She had a pink carnation corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, a breakfast honoring the bridal party and Rev. Marthaler was given by Mrs. Clem Friemel, aunt of the bride.

The bridal dinner was served at noon to the immediate families in the home of the bride's parents. An afternoon reception was also held at the home of the bride's parents. Marcella Przilas was in charge of the guest register.

Farm Fire Loss Highest Ever

The highest yearly farm fire loss in U. S. history jumped $75,000 when this dairy barn and silo burned at Newton, Conn., late last year. Total loss for the year was $157,000,000, a 13 percent increase from the year before, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates. Farm fires don't have to happen and they can be prevented by common-sense fire prevention measures, says the National Fire Protection Association.

Assisting with serving dinner and the luncheon were Mrs. Ben Buecker, Mrs. Paul Artho, Mrs. Conrad Westhoff, Mrs. Max Hoffman, Mrs. Dennis Brandt, Mrs. Mrs. Joe Franks, Mrs. Andrew Lindeman, Anna Buecker and Marcella Przilas.

For the wedding trip to the vicinity of Dallas, the bride chose a princess dress of turquoise brocade satin and black suede accessories. A pearl pillbox hat and the corsage from the wedding bouquet completed the ensemble.

Mrs. Leven attended high school in Umbarger and was a member of the St. Mary's Junior Choir for three years.

Henry Leven was a graduate of Panhandle High School and is employed by Raef Bros. of Umbarger where the couple will make their home.

Ted Briggs Named Hudspeth President

Ted Briggs, Canyon, was recently elected president of the Mary E. Hudspeth Honor Society at West Texas State College. A sophomore, Briggs is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Briggs.

This organization is an honor society for freshmen and sophomores.

District Views

Frank Begert of Umbarger was re-elected supervisor of Sub-division 2 of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District at a recent meeting.

Approximately 20 farmers attended the election meeting and saw a movie entitled, "Return to Eden."

Begert will serve as supervisor for five years.

Following the election, the Board of Supervisors held their regular meeting and reviewed the program and plan for the district.

Iverson Elected Vet Club Secretary

Donal Iverson, Canyon, was recently elected secretary of the Veterans Club at West Texas State College. A graduate student, Iverson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Veal Iverson.

The Veterans Club is organized for veterans of World War II and the Korean War.

Barry Clark Attends California College

Barry G. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Clark, 2501 7th Ave., has registered as a freshman student at the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena.

Fellow in Detroit, Mich., has had his thirst slaked for from three to 15 years. Threw a chunk of concrete through window of a closed bar and helped himself to a few drinks "because I was thirsty." He's now in, instead of at, the jug.

County Agent Tells Ways to Fight Enemy of Lawn Grasses-White Grub

By JOHN BRAZZIL
Randall County Agent

An old time enemy of lawn grasses, the white grub, is causing headaches to Canyon turf owners. The white grubs are the young or immature stage of the common brown May beetles, of which there are more than 100 species.

The grubs feed on the soil organic matter and roots of the grass plant. The adult beetle feeds on the leaves of trees. Most of the injurious species have a 3-year life cycle and cause serious outbreaks in certain years.

The pearly-white eggs are deposited in the spring one to eight inches deep in the soil. They hatch in about four weeks into young grubs, which may feed on living roots. The grubs do their greatest damage in their second year.

When the roots of the grass plant are destroyed the plant dies. As the feeding area of the grub enlarges the brown patch in the lawn grows until a major portion of the lawn may be destroyed.

If grubs are present in a lawn they can be easily found by using a spade to dig in the brown area to a depth of three to eight inches. The mature grub is white with a brown head and may be an inch or slightly more in length.

All lawn troubles are not caused by grubs. Turf diseases and poor management may cause browning of the grasses. Control measures for the grub should not be used until the grubs are found in the lawn.

Lawns infested with white grubs may be treated with lead arsenate at the rate of three-fourths pound per 100 square feet of area.

Chlordane and Dieldrin used according to manufacturer's directions may also be used. These materials may be applied dry or as a spray. After treating the lawn should be soaked good so the materials are carried deep into the plant root zone.

Improper distribution and shallow watering are often causes of poor kills. These materials are toxic.

Children and domestic animals should be kept away from the lawn until the material has been washed into the soil.

U. S. Relaxes Use of Funds

AUSTIN—Texas sportsmen will benefit under new Congressional authority authorizing use of Pittman-Robertson funds for facilitating wildlife harvest on game management areas, reports Howard Dodge, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

The official notification just received from Washington provides in effect that up to 30 per cent of P-R money may be earmarked specifically for "game management" projects such as to finance arrangements for public shooting of surplus game on the several management areas in Texas.

The announcement came as the Commission contemplates the most extensive series of public hunts in Texas history, with at least three experimental-demonstration areas listed as free hunt locations for deer, and with other special shoots possible.

The executive secretary emphasized that the new fund diversion cannot be utilized this fall since the Commission already has financed the special hunt program under rigid legislative budget restrictions.

"This new provision is timely," said Dodge, "because beginning next year we would have been hard pressed to continue the harvest of surplus game on our management areas for lack of funds. We still will be pinched through the current biennium since we have to match the P-R funds on the basis of one Texas dollar to every three allocated from Federal funds."

Pittman - Robertson funds are raised under a special 11 per cent tax on guns and ammunition distributed to the states mainly on the basis of the number of hunting licenses sold and on the states' respective land areas. Texas has had difficulty qualifying for the maximum possible P-R grant because of Legislative restrictions that have aggravated an acute fund crisis.

The new law specifically provides that P-R funds may be used for the wildlife management area harvests to the extent of financing hunter-use facilities, hunter-access roads, actual management of the controlled hunts, manning checking stations to obtain scientific data, emergency winter feeding of game, predator control and setting up studies preliminary to the actual public hunts.

The Commission at its next meeting at Corpus Christi, Oct. 14, will consider free hunts for surplus deer on game management areas in Kerr, Anderson, Brewster and other counties. The executive secretary stressed that plans are strictly tentative and that details will be publicized when and if the Commission acts.

HALF SIZE

"You are accused of hitting your companion over the head with a bottle. Have you anything to say in your defense?"
"Yes, it was only a half-pint."

AUSTIN—A big political question this week was what effect Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey's new job as national Democratic committeeman from Texas will have on his and Texas' political future.

Ramsey, quiet-mannered and nearly 52, was elected at a Fort Worth meeting of the state executive committee last week. He succeeds Wright Morrow of Houston.

Often mentioned as a prospective candidate for governor, the San Augustine lawyer was catapulted into the committee job without advance fanfare. He was labeled a surprise "compromise" nominee after agreement could not be reached on 14 others.

Some viewed it as positioning him on the inside track in the governor's race with firm conservative support and maybe some "loyalist" backing. A few seemed to consider the job a political blind alley. A few others thought Ramsey already had made up his mind against running for anything and welcomed the committee post to stay in public life.

Ramsey himself said he was "grateful and happy," but kept mum on personal political aspirations. He said his only purpose was to help get the best man for the Democratic nominee and to assist in electing him president.

Both House Speaker Sam Rayburn and U. S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson promptly expressed approval of Ramsey's selection. Their approval had been part of the requirements laid down by national party leaders for an "acceptable" committeeman from Texas. Morrow had not been recognized nationally since his bolt from the party ticket to support Eisenhower.

Johnson said Ramsey can do the kind of a job that should unite Texas Democrats. Rayburn called him "a good man for the place."

Shivers Sees Victory
Gov. Allan Shivers has launched his drive for conservative control of next year's Democratic Party conventions.

Executive committee members planned convention strategy behind closed doors at Fort Worth last week. Then Shivers took the rostrum for a stirring speech at a $10-a-plate barbecue and rally.

He challenged those who agree with him on party principles to capture next April's precinct conventions.

He said Texas votes in the national convention may be the decisive ones. "We cannot allow — we must not allow — those votes to be cast against the interests of Texas by a delegation representing a minority of Texans," he said.

"We must fight on if we do not want to see the hand of federal power reach further into the classrooms of our children. We must fight on if we are to hold the right to enforce our own laws and police our own communities."

"The time for quitting has not come. We have won before and we are going to win again."

Duval Indictments Fall
Officials seeking to clean up Duval County's alleged corruption may have to re-do nearly two years work.

A storm of reaction greeted the Court of Criminal Appeals ruling last week that the Duval grand jury which returned 104 indictments was illegally organized.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, who worked with the grand jury for months, termed it "a tragic loss."

Specifically, the judgment overturned conviction of R. L. Adams, former Duval County school superintendent charged with felony theft of public funds. But all other indictments by the same grand jury would be subject to the same challenge.

District Judge A. S. Broadfoot named the jury commission that chose the grand jury. He had been sent to Duval County in March, 1954, by the State Supreme Court to replace Woodrow Laughlin, removed for misconduct in office.

Judge Broadfoot's dismissal of the grand jury panel selected under Laughlin and naming a new commission "of his own choosing" was held improper. An open-court hearing should have been held, the appellate court said, to determine if there was cause for dismissal of the old panel.

Judge K. K. Woodley dissented in the two-to-one ruling. He pointed out that in a similar case the court had upheld Broadfoot.

Shepperd also commented on the court's about-face. "The U. S. Supreme Court took 80 years to reverse itself on segregation, but this court reversed itself in 18 months," he said.

He promised re-indictments would be sought before the present Duval grand jury. He also said rehearing would be asked before the appellate court and disqualification of Judge Lloyd W. Davidson might be sought.

Grounds, he said, would be that Judge Davidson had "expressed himself" on the Duval cases before he became judge.

Davidson took office Jan. 1, replacing retired Judge Harry N. Graves. In the previous decision, Judges Graves and Woodley had voted together, with Judge William A. Morrison dissenting. In the new decision, Davidson joined Morrison to reverse the court's previous stand.

Bell Indictment Uncertain

Indictments seemed to be falling like ninepins. In Seguin the grand jury which indicted Congressman John J. Bell in connection with a veterans land deal was ruled "illegally constituted."

By Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick

Loula Grace Erdman's newest book, "The Far Journey," is now on sale.

It is the story of a young girl, reared by a watchful mother, who manages to escape the carefully laid plans of her ambitious mother and live her own life with the man of her choice, even though this choice causes her to become a "mover woman."

Conquering hardships and dangers beyond the imagination of us who profit by the bravery and courage of these pioneer women who opened up the frontiers bringing civilization to the new countries into which they followed their husbands, sometimes unwillingly, but always carrying their full share of responsibility in the dangerous and desolate work of building homes in a new country.

Loula Grace pays a fine tribute to the courage and ability of these pioneer women who laid the foundations for the civilization we enjoy today.

It is a book you will enjoy reading and you will profit from its reading.

At the Open House held Sunday for Canyon's new Elementary School building two of the first children ever to attend the Canyon Public Schools were present.

Mrs. B. C. Taylor attended Canyon's first public school which was held in a small office building on the square and had five students. Mrs. Ed Harrell, a few years later, attended in the first school building which was a small frame structure where the south part of the present high school now stands.

Although the present buildings far exceed the simple buildings these two pioneer children attended, it will be difficult to develop students of a higher moral character, or who will be of more benefit to their families and communities than these two noble women.

We visited the Tower of London which we were told is referred to as "The Cradle of the Empire."

This Tower, nearly nine hundred years old, was built to protect and control London, its port and its citizens and it was here in this so-called spirit of protection that many a head rolled in the dust including Anne Boleyn, who at her own request, was executed by a French sword in preference to the axe of those bloody days.

This executioner had to be brought from France as there was no one in England who could wield the sword in execution and this delayed her execution one night. Anne spent this night with her attendants practicing her execution so that every detail would go off in the most proper form.

The heads of those executed could be claimed by relatives or friends, and we were told that Sir Walter Raleigh's head was claimed by his wife, and that she carried his head in a sack the rest of her life.

We saw the fabulous crown jewels. The famous crown that has been used for crowning England's kings and queens since the time of King Edward II who ruled England from 1600 to 1680 and is so weighted with jewels it can only be worn for a few minutes and is then exchanged for the Imperial Crown of State which is only half the weight.

The Royal Sceptre contains the largest cut diamond in the world, weighing 530 carats. Here are displayed, well guarded, the fabulous jewels which are the pride of England and add glory to the pomp and pageantry which England loves.

We went to Buckingham Palace, the London home of the Queen, where we watched the changing of the guard, a ceremony which takes place twice weekly when the Queen is in residence at the Palace.

This morning, as every morning during these drills, many thousands had gathered to watch the ceremony. It is impressive. The music of the band; the beautiful, perfectly trained horses; the guards, dressed in the black bearskins head gear and scarlet tunics made a spectacle that holds one's attention through the one hour and a half that you stand to view it.

Toward the last of the drill someone behind us in the dense-packed throng was heard to remark, "They ought to get a 'damn Yankee' over here and teach them how to do that thing in 10 minutes."

Buckingham Palace has been the residence of British sovereigns since 1837. It is a large building, not open to the public, blacked with the soot of England for they burn soft coal, which blacks all of their buildings as well as the tourists.

The court yard is enclosed with a magnificent iron fence. The court yard itself is covered with gravel and cement.

This is necessary because the changing of the guards would soon tramp out any grass, but it is not beautiful. However in front of the palace outside the fence and surrounding it are beautiful gardens, and directly in front is a magnificent fountain which adds much beauty to the scene.

We drove again through the beautiful British countryside and it was in these drives we loved England. The English countryside is beautiful beyond any words of mine.

We visited the pretty village of Stoke Poges and Stokes Poges Church in the churchyard of which the poet Thomas Gray wrote his immortal "Elegy written in a Country Churchyard," said to be the best known poem in the English language.

Here our guide, standing by the tomb of Gray's mother, recited parts of this beautiful poem to us, and as we listened we felt this poem is a finer tribute to the greatness of England than her palaces and castles.

It is said Gray worked for seven years on this poem, which has preserved for all the wonderful beauty of the inspired words of a truly great mind.

The winding path leading to the church was bordered with tree roses which were covered with lovely blooms.

Inside the church decorations were under way for a wedding and as we left we met a young couple bringing their small child to be baptised. With them were relatives and friends equally proud to share this lovely ceremony.

As we stood in this lovely churchyard, listening to our guide recite the words of this immortal poem and as we attended the plays of Shakespeare we realized more than ever that the glory of a country lies not in its gold, jewels and magnificent buildings but, rather in the hearts, the minds and the masterful words of its immortal scholars, and in the people who go about their simple tasks without thought of honor and glory.

The yearly cost to states and countries of cleaning up litter, much of which is thrown out of car windows, is approximately $50,000,000. Forty states now have litter laws, with penalties ranging from $2 to $1,000.

It is said that the American housewife is by far the No. 1 overseas traveler.

I think we found this true, except the greatest number of housewives we met were grandmothers and a few grandfathers.

Discomforts of travel have been to a great extent removed and this class of people, their children reared, retirement forced upon them, while they are still young in spirit, alert mentally and strong physically, have discarded the rocking chair, the mending basket and taken to travel—and they are enjoying it.

A letter from Francis Wilroy, who was for several years Home Demonstration Agent of Randall County and who left here 10 years ago to take up work in Japan, says she enjoys her work as buyer of Oriental and European souvenirs and chinaware for the PX's in Japan, Korea, Okinawa and Guam.

But, that she will be glad when the time comes for her to return home, she said.

Estes Kefauver, senior United States senator from Tennessee, who conducted a widely publicized investigation of crime in this nation, and, more recently, an inquiry into juvenile delinquency, confronts Americans with the following challenging facts.

According to reports of the Federal Bureau of Investigation law enforcement and all phases of crime cost our nation $20 billion annually. For every dollar we pay for education we spend $1.82 to combat lawlessness, for every dollar we contribute to churches we give $10 to fight crime.

At the Mid-Atlantic Conference on Correction, held recently in New York, it was reported that this country leads the world in crime.

In the last 25 years our prison population has increased seven times faster than our national population is increasing.

These facts are indeed alarming. The American public is paying this bill—paying it not only in dollars but also in suffering and anxiety, broken homes and ruined lives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cunningham gave us the following very interesting letter from their son Billy's wife. Billy is located in Boblingen, Germany, where he is typist to the Military Police Battalion there. Mrs. Cunningham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Bolton and joined her husband in Germany in August. She will stay in Germany until Billy's overseas service ends which he expects will be in August of 1956.

"When we left Boblingen, it was pretty foggy, but when we got to the mountains, we were above it. It was a beautiful drive over here to Berchtesgaden, the Germans have Autobans. These are similar to our expressways. Really they are just divided highways. Makes driving a lot easier.

"We arrived at Berchtesgaden where we stayed at the Alpine Inn. It was up on the side of a mountain. Our room cost us $2.00 for the two nights stay.

"The meetings Billy attended were part of the Protestant Men's Convention. It had all the meetings in the General Walker Hotel. This hotel was built by the army, way up in the mountains, fairly close to where Hitler's house used to be. Going up to the hotel, you can see a bare spot where it once was. Also you can see where one of his generals, Goering, had his home. From here for about eight miles, there are underground roads, rooms, firing ranges for his troops, elevators, etc. Eagles Nest was presented to Hitler on his 50th birthday.

"We took a tour to Salzburg, Austria. Salzburg is not very far from Berchtesgaden. It takes about 20 minutes to get there. The Army provides transportation and guides for all these tours.

"When we got to Salzburg, we went to the Dom Platz. In the center was the Statue of the Holy Lady. The cathedral was on one side of this square. It had been destroyed some during the war. There is a temporary altar up now, in front of the one being repaired. We went through Wolfgang Mozart's home. We saw his first violin, some of his original manuscript, the room where he was born, his piano and some paintings of his family. After we left there we went through the Catacombs. Mozart's sister had been buried there. Inside the Catacombs is the oldest chapel in Europe. Most of the Catacombs were hidden but landslides have uncovered the rest. Parts of the Catacombs date back to the 3rd Century A. D. It was all so interesting.

"We went through St. Peter's Church and the St. Francis Church. The altar of the St. Francis Church is the most beautiful altar I've ever seen. It is made of gold. We took a colored slide of it. We have taken quite a few slides of church altars.

"After we had gone through the churches, we went up to a castle or fortress. We got there on a water-run railcar. There are two cars that carry people up the side of the mountain. One car is filled with water, and the weight of the water in one makes the light car go up. When it reaches the top, it is filled with water. Meanwhile the other car empties out the water at the bottom. Then it goes up the top, and the car filled with water comes down. Over and over this same process is done. There isn't much to the castle. It was more a fortress where the people of the town went for protection. We took some pictures. One was of Mozart's statue.

"We took a tour of the salt mines. Everyone had to put on long pants, a heavy coat, a hat and an apron, only on the backside instead of the front. We really looked ridiculous. Billy looked like Ali Baba and his 40 wives. I had on a hat from the 'flapper' days. I didn't look like anything.

"We went in on a little car, through a tunnel. We went pretty far into the mountain. This salt mine produces three-fourths of the Bavarian and about two-thirds of the salt of Italy. We slid down three slides at different times of the tour. The first was 75 feet long; the second was 30 feet long and the third was over 100 feet. There is one slide over 300 feet long. These slides are the means of getting to different levels in the mines. Since it was on Sunday, we didn't see them working. The way they get the salt out of the mines is to dig a big room and fill it with water. They let it stand for about six to eight weeks. Salt brine begins to form; then it is pumped to a nearby town, where it is turned into a finished product. The salt is mostly for cows because there is too much iron in it. During the tour the women and children were taken across one of these rooms in a large row boat.

"After the tour we left for Chiensee, which is another Army Leave and Rest Center. There is a huge lake there and a beautiful castle. Every Saturday night during the summer months, 4,000 candles are lit in one room of the castle.

"We stopped by Deckan. Do you remember this German Concentration Camp? It is also called the Crematorium. We saw two large graves where thousands were buried. We saw the gas chambers, death chambers and ovens where soldiers were cremated alive. It sounds terrible, but everyone should see it. People of America should see it because most of them have not had direct contact with the horrors of war. It is really a gruesome place. The Germans won't admit they knew such a place existed. Some probably didn't, but some did."

Thank you, Nancy, for your letter.

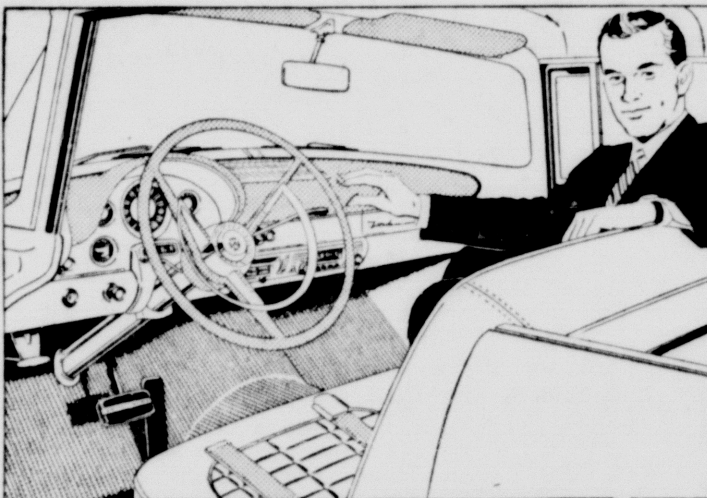

"As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

Oil's Progress

There are three reasons why America's petroleum industry has been able to supply the ever-increasing demand for energy called for by our mechanized way of life: 1, it has fearlessly invested its capital in the hazardous search for oil and gas; 2, it has steadily expanded its facilities; and 3, it has conducted endless research to find better, more efficient ways to make the oil products America needs.

Research! That's the key to the petroleum industry's progress. And the Humble Company assures itself a place of leadership in this field with two great research laboratories.

In the Humble Research Center in Houston scientists and engineers study all phases of finding, producing, and conserving oil and gas.

In the Research Laboratory at Humble's Baytown, Texas, Refinery, highly skilled technicians seek to develop new and better petroleum products, to improve those we already have, and to develop methods for making these products more efficiently.

Just as America's progress depends on oil, so oil's progress depends on research.
